BRAZIL BLOCKS LEAGUE PEACE PLAN

GERMANY IS NOT WELCOME IN THE WORLD CONFERENCE

Other Latin-American States Hold That Exercise of the Right to Admit Teutons Is Particularly a Question for Europe and That Nations On This Side Have No Right to Prevent It.

Brazil holds the key to the League of Nations crisis.

With amazing swiftness, the focus of interest of the big political drama being enacted at Geneva has shifted from Warsaw to Rio Janario, and apparently the only obstacle impending solution of the council controversy is Brazil's insistence that she will vote against Germany for election to the league, and, what is vastly more important, against Germany for a permanent seat in the council.

An urgent cablegram has been sent to the Brazilian capital, embodying an earnest appeal from the League council that the Rio Janerio government modify the instructions heretofore binding on Senhor Mello Franco, and authorize him to vote for Germany. This appeal was transmitted thru Mello Franco.

A special meeting of representatives of Latin-American states was convoked to discuss the situation created by the Brazilian attitude, which was that Brazil would veto the election of Germany to the council unless she herself got a permanent place.

The delegates of 11 Latin-American countries attended the meeting which adopted a resolution that Germany's election to the League was particularly a European question, and that American states had no right to prevent it.

The sense of the meeting was that, altho the Latin-Americans did not wish to pass on Brazil's candidacy for a permanent seat, they were unanimous in holding that the exercise of the right of veto against Germany did not have the approval of the other Latin-American countries.

Both Sweden and Czechoslovakia have agreed to sacrifice their non-permanent seats in the council in order to permit the immediate election of Poland to one of the vacancies thus created. Such was the big development in the Polish aspect of the crisis and it opens the way for the settlement of the problem which for the past four days has endangered the Locarno accords and even the whole League.

Both Germany and France in a spirit of compromise have accepted this plan. Poland's friends feel convinced they can elect her, and that when Germany takes her seat in the council she shall find Poland there.

This solution of sacrifice was not achieved without a struggle. The German statesmen steadfastly opposed the first proposal that Sweden alone should resign—for M. Unden, the Swedish foreign minister, decided that he should go in order to prevent the great tragedy of rupture. The Germans declared that this would not please German home opinion that they had abandoned their friends in favor of a potential enemy.

There is an impression that the Japanese are discontented with Monday's solution, because they believe that when men with the fortitude of the Samurai gave renunciation it should be to attain some higher goal. And the Japanese seem not to be content.

vinced that Monday's sacrifice was for the furtherance of the larger and lasting aims of the League, but rather for the smaller purpose of setting a quarrel among a few members of the League.

Will Brazil adhere to her decision to veto Germany? Will Spain, angered at the failure of her campaign to win a permanent seat, resign from the League? These two questions were being asked Monday night.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wire by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Warren—Police today were faced with the task of finding a motive for the strangest duel in Trumbull county, an axe against a razor.

Peter Fisher, 45, is dying in Warren hospital from wounds about his head and shoulders, said to have been inflicted with an ax. Ernest Mitchell, 35, with a horribly slashed face and body, apparently from the wielding of a razor, is in the city jail, pending the result of Fisher's injuries.

Columbus—Still another Republican aspirant for the Republican nomination for governor was announced Monday, when Grant Beam, of Napoleon made application for "governor's papers" to the secretary of state.

Six persons have already filed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Columbus—Carl N. Crispin, former assistant secretary of the Columbus chamber of commerce, was appointed managing director Monday for the Ohio State commission in charge of plans for Ohio's participation in the Philadelphia Sesquicentennial exposition this summer.

Georgetown—Suspected of complicity in a dozen Cincinnati hold-ups four men were held here Monday charged with robbing the L. V. Marks Shoe company at Ripley, Saturday.

The men, Henry A. Abel, 27, patrolman; Joseph Abel, 32, Charles Abel, 19, and Edward M. Dennis, Newport, Kentucky, probably will not be returned to Cincinnati, police said.

And as a result, he was arrested by police when he was caught attempting to rob the safe at the Church of the Master, here.

Coshocton—John Hughes, former marshal of the village of West Lafayette, who shot and killed his wife, Nellie, and seriously wounded Cecil Carr Sunday night, and then turned the gun on himself, died Monday. Carr is in a critical condition.

The shooting occurred at the home of Hughes' mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert Hartley, a widow, in West Lafayette. Jealously was advanced as the motive by the authorities.

ELEVATOR AT YELLOWBUD CAUGHT FIRE

A near destructive fire occurred at Yellowbud at 7 o'clock this morning. The kerosene heater in the office of the Immel Bros., elevator exploded and in an instant the whole interior of the office was ablaze and it was only because of the heroic efforts of about 30 of the villagers that the elevator and much grain therein was saved.

The Chillicothe fire department was appealed to for help and were on the way to the scene of the fire when it was gotten under control and they were telephoned and stopped without making the final lap of the run.

The damage to the building and office fixtures are fully covered by insurance in the "Service Agency" of Hummel & Plum, Mr. Hummel being on the scenes of the loss within an hour and a half after its occurrence.

ADDITIONAL INDICTMENTS ARE EXPECTED

Cleveland, O., March 16, (UP)—Between forty and fifty more persons were expected to be indicted by the federal grand jury which returned the true bill accusing 112 men with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, in the alleged gigantic alcohol ring unearthed by federal operatives.

After turning over the huge document naming the men involved, to Judge Paul Jones, the grand jury recessed until April 1.

Federal investigators next were to center their attention in Philadelphia, it was said today. Ten of the "master minds" of the alleged alcohol expose, living in the Quaker City, are already under indictment.

Government employees, motor truck and warehouse workers were expected to be implicated in the new developments.

HARRISON TO SERVE TIME IN PENITENTIARY

Dollings Official Loses Fight in High Court—Benham to be Tried Soon.

Dwight L. Harrison, former vice president and general manager of the R. L. Dollings company, now defunct, sentenced to three years in Ohio penitentiary and fined $5000 January 5, 1924, will begin serving that sentence within ten days.

United States supreme court has upheld the conviction obtained by County Prosecutor King, and Harrison will be imprisoned as soon as the court's order arrives King said.

Harrison was convicted of making a false financial statement regarding the Phoenix Portland Cement Co., of Ohio while he was attempting to float a stock issue for the company.

Enforcement of the sentence marks culmination of almost three years legal battle.

This is the first conviction under a new statute providing that anyone who makes a false statement concerning sale of stock in an effort to deceive the buying public is guilty of a felony, King said.

"It proves," he asserted, "that the law has teeth in it and that the buying public has something to fall back upon when shady stock deals are manipulated."

Harrison was convicted December 19, 1923, by a jury in Common Pleas Judge Duncan's court and sentenced January 5, 1924.

W. C. Benham, former president of the Dollings company, will come to trial for embezzlement in Franklin county courts during the coming term. He also is under sentence to the federal penitentiary.

GRANGES ARE LIVE WIRES

Variety of Its Activities Grows Broader and of Increasing Service.

In California Fort Romie Grange has joined with other local organizations in sponsoring a series of studies on fruit tree culture, classes running through the early spring months in preparation for actual work by those attending. A large number of local orchardists and their employees are attending the classes.

New Juvenile Granges organized the past two months in a number of states indicate the growing interest in this phase of the work of the Grange. In 20 states matrons have been appointed to supervise the work and increasing interest among the boys and girls is everywhere reported. There are upwards of 450 Juvenile Granges in the United States the number having more than doubled in the past three years.

The National Grange, through its legislative department, is vigorously backing the truth-in-fabrics bill which Senator Capper has introduced in Congress, and the support of subordinate branches of the organization throughout the country is being widely enlisted. The Capper bill eliminates many objectionable features in former bills and especially provides for the distinct labeling of all adulterated fabrics.

ALL AMERICA IS SEEKING FRINGED GENTIAN SEEDS

New York.—America, the Beautiful, would be carpeted from coast to coast with the blue-eyed fringed gentian if thousands of flower lovers writing to the New York Botanical garden could be given the seeds they seek, says Dr. M. A. Howe, acting director.

The director told a sad tale of an idyl wrecked by advertising.

Two years ago Dr. George F. Norton published an article in the Journal of the New York Botanical Garden. "Then doth thy sweet and quiet eye look through its fringes to the sky, blue—blue—" he quoted the poet, and made the offer: "I shall be glad to furnish free of charge a small lot of seed of the fringed gentian to any flower-lover who will select a meadow that will not be burned over nor pastured, and scatter the seeds there."

The fringed gentian, one of the favorite wild flowers, then was beginning to grow rare. When Doctor Norton chanced upon thick patches of it near Stanwich, Conn., he got the idea of gathering the plentiful little seeds in its dried pods, and distributing them to flower-lovers who would go about rehabilitating bare meadows with blue aristocrat.

"The seeds are tiny—half a thimbleful contains about 2,500, I suppose," said Doctor Howe, "enough to plant a fair-sized patch of land. So it was not difficult to mail out the small lots. Doctor Norton was offering the initiated. Last fall at gentian seeding time, he repeated the offer."

"This year the unexpected happened. Newspapers made news of his offer. Requests began to pour in—from California, Washington, Arizona, even a German letter from Europe. Some of the papers dropped Doctor Norton's name, referring simply to us, and our mail-bag began to swell as had his. Our boom has become a boomerang."

A form letter tells the last chapter of the tale. Those who send stamps now receive the reply: "Our friend informs us that he no longer has any seeds."

MODERN FOOD MAKES FOR UNSOUND TEETH

Return to food conditions much more primitive than those at present in vogue will be necessary if the ravages of dental diseases are to be checked. This is the lesson derived by Dr. T. D. Campbell of Adelaide university, Australia, from an exhaustive examination of teeth and jaws of Australian aborigines which he finds are strikingly large, well formed and healthy.

"There is in every respect," Doctor Campbell says, "a very marked difference between the well-formed Australian dentition, and the ill-formed, disease-stricken masticatory outfit with which modern civilized peoples are burdened."

The marked immunity from dental disease among the aboriginal children and grown-ups, he attributed to the coarse, tough food which formed their diet and the crude methods of preparation and cooking.

Old Pamphlet Brings High Price at Auction

A poem which sold for more than $12,000 at Sotheby's last November, when it was auctioned as "probably the earliest celebration in verse of the British settlement in America," and "probably unrecorded," was received in New York the other day by its purchaser. The pamphlet in a cheap little binding has only 12 pages and they brought under the hammer of the auctioneers approximately $1,000 a page. It is said to be the highest priced book relating to Virginia ever brought to America.

The poem was written by Christopher Brooke. Its title is "A Poem on the Late Massacre in Virginia." When it left the press in 1622 it was marked to sell at 2 pence. For the last 50 years it had lain in a loft of Lord Cromwell. No one attached any significance to the unpretentious little pamphlet until it went to the auctioneer's with other literary offerings of Lord Cromwell.

Ink of Medical Value

Printer's ink, says Dr. Byron M. Harmon, superintendent of the Essex county (N. J.) sanatorium, is a relief if not a cure for tuberculosis. He claims that employing patients of the institution to set type by hand stopped hemorrhages suffered by a number of men. Several of them, he claims, were eventually cured and left the institution, but continued to work at their new trade.

Havana Gets Skyscraper

In Cuba, up to the present time, the highest buildings were about ten stories, which would equal the height of a 20-story building in the United States, owing to the fact that higher ceilings for all floors have to be allowed there on account of the climate. However, Havana is to have a new building 20 stories high, which will correspond with the highest buildings used for business and hotels in the United States.

All departed at a late hour wishing her many more such happy birthday anniversaries.

The stately old rooms of the home of Mrs. Charles H. May were never more beautiful than on the evening of March 15, when they were opened for the pleasure of the members of the Monday club on the occasion of their annual party. Beautiful gowns, fragrant flowers, smiling women, music, conversation made the evening one long to be remembered.

The club was most happy to have with them Mrs. Swartz, superintendent of Federated clubs for the southern district. Mrs. Swartz was an instructive and pleasing speaker and made many suggestions for the community life perfect for which the women's clubs are laboring. Two choruses were given by the club members.

A dainty refreshment course in colors appropriate to St. Patrick's day was served. The president, Mrs. Carl Ritz, suggested that Mrs. May be tendered a vote of appreciation for her gracious hospitality and this was most heartily acted upon. Some firms advertise by mailing circulars. Pickaway County has about 5,000 homes. Circulars mailed to each home costs the sender about $150.

Money spent in this manner must be added to the overhead expense and the customer pays that expense.

All the leading industries of Circleville and the many surrounding towns have their work done here. Why not you. IF YOU HAVE A DAUGHTER

Did you ever stop to think what effect the furnishings of your daughter's bed room will have upon her? Make her room so attractive that she will want to stay at home, and will want her girl friends to come and see her room.

We have a beautiful six piece bed room suite that would make a very attractive suite for a young lady's room. It is far more attractive than the one shown above. We have no picture of the one we have in mind. The suite consists of bed, vanity, low-boy, bench, rocker, and night-table. It is made of Wild Cherry veneers in combination with other woods. The finish is known as Blistered Cherry. It is very beautiful and we want you to come and see it. The price? We almost forgot about that.

All six pieces for less than $300—$285.00, to be exact with a discount of $14.25, if you pay cash. We have but one suite in Cherry and cannot promise delivery of any more within four months. That's how well this suite is selling elsewhere. So, don't delay, but come in right away and order it sent out for the daughter's room.

AMUSEMENTS

There is no lack of thrills and entertainment in Tod Browning's crook drama, "The Unholy Three," a Metro Goldwyn-Mayer production, now showing at the Met theater.

Indeed, it may be said that Browning has made more than a good underworld picture. He has made a melodrama that will go over anywhere with a bang because it contains real heart interest, plenty of comedy and a lot of drama.

The story is a most unusual one and deals with a trio of freaks—a giant, a midget and a ventriloquist—who forsake their life in a dime museum to pursue a career of robbery and murder.

The trio cover up their misdeeds by running a bird and animal store, and succeed in escaping detection after each crime until two of them murder a wealthy club man while looting his home.

After shifting the blame on another they flee to the mountains. Fearful of the strength and cunning of his confederates, the ventriloquist brings a powerful gorilla with him for protection. How the gorilla fulfills his mission, how the innocent culprit is defended by the agency of an unknown voice at the trial, how the mystery is cleared up brings the picture to a thrilling, satisfying end.

Miss Busch and Lon Chaney have the outstanding roles but the others take every advantage to give a very fine performance in what may be rightly called the best crook film of the year.

FOR RAINBOW VETERANS

Ohio is proud of the war record of its One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry of the Rainbow Division. Brigadier General Frank D. Henderson, Adjutant General of Ohio, is anxious that the history of the organization reaches every ex-service man of the organization.

Saturday he made this announcement: "The Ohio Legislature in 1923 authorized an appropriation of funds for the compilation, publication and distribution of a history of the One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry, namely, 'Ohio in the Rainbow,' free of cost to all officers and enlisted men who served honorably in the One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry during the World War. The history is ready for issue to those, by making application to this office, furnishing such identification as is necessary to establish the fact that they are entitled to the book. Address applications to the Adjutant General's Department, Columbus, Ohio."

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID OHIO FOOD CANNERS

Eager Demand Throughout the Country For Canned Foods With Ohio Imprint.

Columbus, March 15.—Urging that grades be established in order that sub-standard goods may not be offered as standard or fancy, thereby prejudicing the high commercial standing obtained by years of patient effort on the part of the better class of canners in Ohio, Arthur McWilliams, chief of the state dairy and food commission, today declared that the corn produced by the Ohio canners enjoys an enviable reputation from a qualitative standpoint.

"Superiority in this respect," Mr. McWilliams said, "has been the result of a moral responsibility assumed by the better class of canners operating within the state. They have set a high standard that has developed an eager demand throughout the country for the canned goods bearing the Ohio imprint. A flattering distribution has been created that will require activity and greater markets and result in more profits to the corn growers of Ohio. This industry having been placed on a high plane should make a commanding appeal to consumers. Every effort should be made on the part of the people of Ohio to maintain this status."

"One pound of corn," Mr. McWilliams said, "equals in caloric value 1 1/4 pounds of white potatoes; 4 pounds of turnips or 6 pounds of lettuce."

PANTS FOUND, MONEY GONE

Things look pretty black when a man wakes in the morning and discovers that the trousers which he had so carefully folded over the foot of the bed the night before have disappeared.

That's what happened to Valentine Wagner, of Kingston. Last Thursday night Mr. Wagner folded his trousers over the bedstead, Friday morning he awoke and there were no trousers.

A systematic search of the house revealed the missing clothing in one of the rooms in the lower floor of the house. The trousers were there but a bill fold that contained $20 when Mr. Wagner had seen it last was gone.

The matter was reported and Marshal J. T. Evans is working on the case.

Entrance to the house was gained by prying open a window on the ground floor. Nothing else in the house was disturbed. Mr. or Mrs. Wagner heard the night-workers enter the room and depart with the trousers.

It is believed that the robbery was committed by a Kingston person or one familiar with the surroundings.

For a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then he bought a ring that was fair to see

For the lily-white hand of his bride to be;

And after the wedding the minister's fee

Was a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then he bought a house for his family

At a dollar down and a dollar a week.

And when they got sick the doctor's fee,

Was a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then said his wife, "I must be free;

These weekly payments are ruining me!"

So she got a divorce and the alimonce

Twins Not Duplicates

Always, Prof. Holds

Seattle.—Working on the hypothesis that twins may be divided into two classifications—dissimilar twins and duplicate twins—Stevenson Smith, professor of psychology of the University of Washington, is examining 100 pair this year. He is undertaking to determine in what degree they are dissimilar both mentally and physically.

The custom of dressing twins alike, Professor Smith explained, tends almost irresistibly to the belief that the children are alike. Parents find, however, if they clothe their paired offspring differently, individualism of personality is cultivated.

Coat of Black Velvet, Skirt, Gold Lama Cloth

This is said to be one of the latest ideas in sports regalia. The skirt is of gold lama cloth, and the coat of black velvet, trimmed with gold. The accompanying hat is of black satin, trimmed with ribbon. A purse of gold brocade gives the desired finish to the outfit.

Paris Favors Elack; Vivid Colors on Wane

Paris has gone back to her allegiance to black. Not that she ever really frowned upon the code of black, but for a short time its supremacy was a bit threatened by the more vivid colors. Recently, however, the costume of black or black touched with white or a bit of contrasting color has been seen in sufficient numbers to make it worthy of much consideration.

American women, generally speaking, have not taken to high collars with quite the same enthusiasm as the smart Parisienne but there is no doubt of their chic and no doubt that the woman who is alert to all the finer discriminations of the mode will include at least one, if not more, high-collared gown in her wardrobe.

In one frock there is a novel sash to add to the interest of the high collar and wide sleeves with their colorful appliques. The sash, very wide and placed at the normal waistline, extends all the way down the right side of the skirt.

Fashioned of black repelcloth, the model boasts a novel collar and neckline and achieves a charmingly youthful aspect by motifs of brilliant colors which form a decoration on the sleeves.

Two-Piece Models Ideal for Sports, Resort Wear

The ingenuity displayed in the creation of two-piece models is truly amazing. Seemingly new ideas should have been exhausted, but each week witnesses the launching of a new version of the jumper.

Frocks of this type are ideal for sports and resort wear. Recognizing that they may serve so many purposes, designers have shown much versatility in the type of materials used and in details of trimming. Rajah and shantung silks are among the materials which apparently are destined to be rivals of Chinese damask. Then there are several new woolsens, as well as a number of interesting cotton fabrics which in weave and texture suggest wool.

Developed in one of the new materials is a frock which is a smart interpretation of the latest mode in frocks of the two-piece type. For the original costume, a rather brilliant shade of blue was chosen, and crepe de chine in the same shade forms an effective trimming on both jumper and wrap-around skirt. An interesting detail is the long tie run through slashes.

Quilted Silks, Satins, Make Handsome Coats

Fine quilted silks and satins make very handsome coats for evening, afternoon and "occasional" wear. The practical model for this type of coat has straight lines, and it is invariably trimmed with fur. Many of the quilted coats for spring are made of taffeta in black, with ermine or white fox, and in beige, king's blue, or gray. Peach squirrel, summer ermine and others of the short furs are used for trimming. Materials never treated so before are now quilted. A quilted coat just brought out is made of pea-green glazed chintz—the kind we are accustomed to see in hangings and upholstery. It is lined with light tan kasha cloth and has a collar and narrow cuff bands of summer squirrel matching the lining in color. Another coat of this imported glazed cotton is in a lovely shade of blue with collar and cuffs of white rabbit. It is a charming jeune fille wrap.

MORE MARRIED WOMEN

Pessimists have pointed to the great increase of married women working outside the home but have ignored altogether the figures that show the great increase in the number of married women, writes John Beach in an article in this week's Liberty. He points out that there was a greater proportion of married women in 1920 than in 1910 for women of every age between fourteen and forty-five, and the increase was the most marked for the women of younger years.

"The increase of married women at work outside the home," he writes, "has been at a far faster rate than the increase of all women engaged in similar occupations. Working women are marrying at a greater rate than women in general are going to work."

From 1910-20 there was an actual drop in the percentage of all women who were engaged in such occupations—from 25.4 per cent in 1910 to 23.7 per cent in 1920.

"The census and the researches of the Department of Labor disclose that the movement of women for years past has been into office work, professional pursuits, and sales activities, rather than into the factory or shop."

"There were only thirty thousand and more married women workers listed in 1920 than in 1910 in all occupations, but in that same period married women in office and clerical work increased 290 per cent and saleswomen increased by 133 per cent. The increase of married women in mechanical and manufacturing occupations was only 41 per cent."

"It is quite evident that for the great majority of working wives the period of a married business career is transitory. Later on they become housewives—and the arrival of the first baby is usually the occasion of the wife's retirement from business."

"But, on the other hand, an increasing number of married business women manage to combine motherhood and business, just as the women of European aristocracies have always managed to combine motherhood with a multitude of outside activities. There are corporations which provide for their women workers' vacations for childbearing."

"Woman was formerly taken from the parental rooftop by the lover into a new home," writes Mr. Beach. "Now she is taken from business, even if the wedding bells precede the carrying off by months or many years."

Christ Was Small Man, Says Bible Authority

London.—Christ was a comparatively small man and not of the size and figure in which he is generally represented, according to Dr. Rendel Harris, one of the greatest living authorities on Old Testament history and a former professor in Johns Hopkins university.

Doctor Harris quoted as an authority the Apostle John who says, according to the Acts:

"Oftimes He would appear to me as a small man and uncomely, and then as one reaching unto heaven. His head touched heaven so that I was afraid and cried out and He, turning about, appeared as a man of small stature."

The doctor arrives at a height of five feet two inches from the writings of St. Ephrem, the Syrian, which contains the following:

"God took human form and appeared with a stature of three human cubits while at the same time assuming all things. He rose upon us little of stature."

Three human cubits are estimated to be five feet two inches.

Lost His Hotel

New Orleans.—George Carr of Burlington, Iowa, registered in a "small hotel on a narrow street" and went to give Mardi Gras the "once over." He could not find the hotel after an all-day search and had to insert an ad in a local paper appealing to the manager of the hostelry to send him his baggage.

Going Too Deep

A wealthy amateur collector who recently returned to this country from a tour of Europe brought back with him from Italy a very precious and rare picture that he regarded as the work of an old master. In order to evade the Italian ban upon the export of such works he had a seascape painted over the original and when he arrived in New York he instructed a famous firm of art dealers to remove this latter. A few days later he received the following wire from this firm: "Have removed seascape and old master. What do you wish us to do with 'Coronation of Victor Emmanuel'?"

Little Cochineal Used

Cochineal as a coloring is still used to some extent. Formerly it was much employed for coloring wool or silk a scarlet or crimson; but owing to the cost of its production and to the fact that the colors, although brilliant, are not very enduring, this dye has been greatly replaced by cheaper coal-tar products, and for this reason the cochineal industry has been rapidly declining.

ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPER GETS RESULTS

"Red Grange" Without the Publicity Could Not Make Money Credited to Him.

*That newspapers are the most effective advertising mediums and that newspapers advertising is the cheapest and most productive form of publicity because of its news value was the gist of an address before the Columbus Advertising club at its luncheon meeting at the Fort Hayes hotel, Columbus, Monday, by Andrew L. Carmichel, director of advertising promotion for the Chicago Evening American.

In his address, he declared that "Red Grange," without the advertising publicity given him, would not have been able to make the money credited to him, and cited this as an example of the efficacy of the newspapers' work.

"Only a newspaper could have done this thing," he asserted, "because the newspapers, by their nature, create an instantaneous desire for anything that appeals."

"The fact that a newspaper is born and dies on the same day, and tomorrow an entirely new one comes into existence, creates the thought of action in the reader's mind."

Mr. Carmichel, in commenting on the value of newspaper advertising, declared that its work could be very quickly seen in a newspaper, in the loss of circulation caused when advertising was removed. He added that he had no time or desire to argue with any individual who has no use for newspaper advertising.

"A certain man has stated that there is no such thing as cumulative results from newspaper advertising," he said. "If the statement is true, then advertising is a fraud. If the statement is true, there is not a merchant in Columbus who can afford to buy advertising space."

"If you want to test that statement to get the facts, let a non-advertiser run a page ad and then let a regular advertiser run the same ad. You will find that the regular advertiser will outpull by a margin so far that there will be no comparison."

"Why? Because the regular advertiser has established his identity and his service. He had good will, and good will is worth more than money and merchandise. It is the very lifeblood of any business. Cumulative results from former advertisements assert themselves in each and every advertisement."

Other Latin-American States Hold That Exercise of the Right to Admit Teutons Is Particularly a Question for Europe and That Nations On This Side Have No Right to Prevent It.

Brazil holds the key to the League of Nations crisis.

With amazing swiftness, the focus of interest of the big political drama being enacted at Geneva has shifted from Warsaw to Rio Janario, and apparently the only obstacle impending solution of the council controversy is Brazil's insistence that she will vote against Germany for election to the league, and, what is vastly more important, against Germany for a permanent seat in the council.

An urgent cablegram has been sent to the Brazilian capital, embodying an earnest appeal from the League council that the Rio Janerio government modify the instructions heretofore binding on Senhor Mello Franco, and authorize him to vote for Germany. This appeal was transmitted thru Mello Franco.

A special meeting of representatives of Latin-American states was convoked to discuss the situation created by the Brazilian attitude, which was that Brazil would veto the election of Germany to the council unless she herself got a permanent place.

The delegates of 11 Latin-American countries attended the meeting which adopted a resolution that Germany's election to the League was particularly a European question, and that American states had no right to prevent it.

The sense of the meeting was that, altho the Latin-Americans did not wish to pass on Brazil's candidacy for a permanent seat, they were unanimous in holding that the exercise of the right of veto against Germany did not have the approval of the other Latin-American countries.

Both Sweden and Czecho-Slovakia have agreed to sacrifice their non-permanent seats in the council in order to permit the immediate election of Poland to one of the vacancies thus created. Such was the big development in the Polish aspect of the crisis and it opens the way for the settlement of the problem which for the past four days has endangered the Locarno accords and even the whole League.

Both Germany and France in a spirit of compromise have accepted this plan. Poland's friends feel convinced they can elect her, and that when Germany takes her seat in the council she shall find Poland there.

This solution of sacrifice was not achieved without a struggle. The German statesmen steadfastly opposed the first proposal that Sweden alone should resign—for M. Unden, the Swedish foreign minister, decided that he should go in order to prevent the great tragedy of rupture. The Germans declared that this would not please German home opinion that they had abandoned their friends in favor of a potential enemy.

There is an impression that the Japanese are discontented with Monday's solution, because they believe that when men with the fortitude of the Samurai gave renunciation it should be to attain some higher goal. And the Japanese seem not to be content.

The American women have kept the Japanese silkworms on the jump during the past year. Postal cards from the mikado indicate that the worms have ever had the liveliest year they have ever known and the exports of silk from Japanese harbors are much heavier than they have ever been before.—Los Angeles Times.

vinced that Monday's sacrifice was for the furtherance of the larger and lasting aims of the League, but rather for the smaller purpose of setting a quarrel among a few members of the League.

Will Brazil adhere to her decision to veto Germany? Will Spain, angered at the failure of her campaign to win a permanent seat, resign from the League? These two questions were being asked Monday night.

Popular music as played by the modern orchestra is to make its debut before the pulpit of the Wilshire Congregational church of Los Angeles in the near future, when Carlyle Stevenson's orchestra plays a group of modern music scores at the invitation of Doctor Dyer, pastor of this fashionable church. HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wire by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Warren—Police today were faced with the task of finding a motive for the strangest duel in Trumbull county, an axe against a razor.

Peter Fisher, 45, is dying in Warren hospital from wounds about his head and shoulders, said to have been inflicted with an ax. Ernest Mitchell, 35, with a horribly slashed face and body, apparently from the wielding of a razor, is in the city jail, pending the result of Fisher's injuries.

Columbus—Still another Republican aspirant for the Republican nomination for governor was announced Monday, when Grant Beam, of Napoleon made application for "governor's papers" to the secretary of state.

Six persons have already filed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Columbus—Carl N. Crispin, former assistant secretary of the Columbus chamber of commerce, was appointed managing director Monday for the Ohio State commission in charge of plans for Ohio's participation in the Philadelphia Sesquicentennial exposition this summer.

Georgetown—Suspected of complicity in a dozen Cincinnati hold-ups four men were held here Monday charged with robbing the L. V. Marks Shoe company at Ripley, Saturday.

The men, Henry A. Abel, 27, patrolman; Joseph Abel, 32, Charles Abel, 19, and Edward M. Dennis, Newport, Kentucky, probably will not be returned to Cincinnati, police said.

And as a result, he was arrested by police when he was caught attempting to rob the safe at the Church of the Master, here.

Coshocton—John Hughes, former marshal of the village of West Lafayette, who shot and killed his wife, Nellie, and seriously wounded Cecil Carr Sunday night, and then turned the gun on himself, died Monday. Carr is in a critical condition.

The shooting occurred at the home of Hughes' mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert Hartley, a widow, in West Lafayette. Jealously was advanced as the motive by the authorities.

ELEVATOR AT YELLOWBUD CAUGHT FIRE

A near destructive fire occurred at Yellowbud at 7 o'clock this morning. The kerosene heater in the office of the Immel Bros., elevator exploded and in an instant the whole interior of the office was ablaze and it was only because of the heroic efforts of about 30 of the villagers that the elevator and much grain therein was saved.

The Chillicothe fire department was appealed to for help and were on the way to the scene of the fire when it was gotten under control and they were telephoned and stopped without making the final lap of the run.

The damage to the building and office fixtures are fully covered by insurance in the "Service Agency" of Hummel & Plum, Mr. Hummel being on the scenes of the loss within an hour and a half after its occurrence.

ADDITIONAL INDICTMENTS ARE EXPECTED

Cleveland, O., March 16, (UP)—Between forty and fifty more persons were expected to be indicted by the federal grand jury which returned the true bill accusing 112 men with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, in the alleged gigantic alcohol ring unearthed by federal operatives.

After turning over the huge document naming the men involved, to Judge Paul Jones, the grand jury recessed until April 1.

Federal investigators next were to center their attention in Philadelphia, it was said today. Ten of the "master minds" of the alleged alcohol expose, living in the Quaker City, are already under indictment.

Government employees, motor truck and warehouse workers were expected to be implicated in the new developments.

HARRISON TO SERVE TIME IN PENITENTIARY

Dwight L. Harrison, former vice president and general manager of the R. L. Dollings company, now defunct, sentenced to three years in Ohio penitentiary and fined $5000 January 5, 1924, will begin serving that sentence within ten days.

United States supreme court has upheld the conviction obtained by County Prosecutor King, and Harrison will be imprisoned as soon as the court's order arrives King said.

Harrison was convicted of making a false financial statement regarding the Phoenix Portland Cement Co., of Ohio while he was attempting to float a stock issue for the company.

Enforcement of the sentence marks culmination of almost three years legal battle.

This is the first conviction under a new statute providing that anyone who makes a false statement concerning sale of stock in an effort to deceive the buying public is guilty of a felony, King said.

"It proves," he asserted, "that the law has teeth in it and that the buying public has something to fall back upon when shady stock deals are manipulated."

Harrison was convicted December 19, 1923, by a jury in Common Pleas Judge Duncan's court and sentenced January 5, 1924.

W. C. Benham, former president of the Dollings company, will come to trial for embezzlement in Franklin county courts during the coming term. He also is under sentence to the federal penitentiary.

GRANGES ARE LIVE WIRES

Variety of Its Activities Grows Broader and of Increasing Service.

In California Fort Romie Grange has joined with other local organizations in sponsoring a series of studies on fruit tree culture, classes running through the early spring months in preparation for actual work by those attending. A large number of local orchardists and their employees are attending the classes.

New Juvenile Granges organized the past two months in a number of states indicate the growing interest in this phase of the work of the Grange. In 20 states matrons have been appointed to supervise the work and increasing interest among the boys and girls is everywhere reported. There are upwards of 450 Juvenile Granges in the United States the number having more than doubled in the past three years.

The National Grange, through its legislative department, is vigorously backing the truth-in-fabrics bill which Senator Capper has introduced in Congress, and the support of subordinate branches of the organization throughout the country is being widely enlisted. The Capper bill eliminates many objectionable features in former bills and especially provides for the distinct labeling of all adulterated fabrics.

ALL AMERICA IS SEEKING FRINGED GENTIAN SEEDS

New York.—America, the Beautiful, would be carpeted from coast to coast with the blue-eyed fringed gentian if thousands of flower lovers writing to the New York Botanical garden could be given the seeds they seek, says Dr. M. A. Howe, acting director.

The director told a sad tale of an idyl wrecked by advertising. Two years ago Dr. George F. Norton published an article in the Journal of the New York Botanical Garden. "Then doth thy sweet and quiet eye look through its fringes to the sky, blue—blue—" he quoted the poet, and made the offer: "I shall be glad to furnish free of charge a small lot of seed of the fringed gentian to any flower-lover who will select a meadow that will not be burned over nor pastured, and scatter the seeds there."

The fringed gentian, one of the favorite wild flowers, then was beginning to grow rare. When Doctor Norton chanced upon thick patches of it near Stanwich, Conn., he got the idea of gathering the plentiful little seeds in its dried pods, and distributing them to flower-lovers who would go about rehabilitating bare meadows with blue aristocrat.

"The seeds are tiny—half a thimbleful contains about 2,500, I suppose," said Doctor Howe, "enough to plant a fair-sized patch of land. So it was not difficult to mail out the small lots Doctor Norton was offering the initiated. Last fall at gentian seeding time, he repeated the offer.

"This year the unexpected happened. Newspapers made news of his offer. Requests began to pour in—from California, Washington, Arizona, even a German letter from Europe. Some of the papers dropped Doctor Norton's name, referring simply to us, and our mail-bag began to swell as had his. Our boom has become a boomerang."

A form letter tells the last chapter of the tale. Those who send stamps now receive the reply: "Our friend informs us that he no longer has any seeds."

"But I can't then, sir," protested the office boy.

"Can't? Why can't you?"

"You just light one of those big cigars of yours and try it yourself."—American Legion Weekly.

MODERN FOOD MAKES FOR UNSOUND TEETH

Return to food conditions much more primitive than those at present in vogue will be necessary if the ravages of dental diseases are to be checked. This is the lesson derived by Dr. T. D. Campbell of Adelaide university, Australia, from an exhaustive examination of teeth and jaws of Australian aborigines which he finds are strikingly large, well formed and healthy.

"There is in every respect," Doctor Campbell says, "a very marked difference between the well-formed Australian dentition, and the ill-formed, disease-stricken masticatory outfit with which modern civilized peoples are burdened."

The marked immunity from dental disease among the aboriginal children and grown-ups, he attributed to the coarse, tough food which formed their diet and the crude methods of preparation and cooking.

Havana Gets Skyscraper

In Cuba, up to the present time, the highest buildings were about ten stories, which would equal the height of a 20-story building in the United States, owing to the fact that higher ceilings for all floors have to be allowed there on account of the climate. However, Havana is to have a new building 20 stories high, which will correspond with the highest buildings used for business and hotels in the United States.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

A most enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pontius, of near Kingston, Friday evening, March 12, when fifty of their friends, gathered in to remind Mrs. Pontius of her birthday anniversary, it being a complete surprise on her. Many nice presents were presented to Mrs. Pontius. The evening was spent in music and playing games, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, the center of the table having a large birthday cake with thirty-three candles. All departed at a late hour wishing her many more such happy birthday anniversaries.

A birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huffer honoring Mr. Huffer's thirtieth birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Drake and son, Carl, Mr. and Mrs. John Sawyer and grandson, Edgar Stevens, and Mrs. Charles Brannon, of this city. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde White and family, of Columbus Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huffer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hott and family, Mr. Ralph Hott and Miss Effie Walker, of Jackson township. Mr. Huffer received many nice presents. At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served to forty guests. The day was spent in music and pleasure. All departed at a late hour in the evening wishing Mr. Huffer many more such happy birthday anniversaries.

The stately old rooms of the home of Mrs. Charles H. May were never more beautiful than on the evening of March 15, when they were opened for the pleasure of the members of the Monday club on the occasion of their annual party. Beautiful gowns, fragrant flowers, smiling women, music, conversation made the evening one long to be remembered.

The club was most happy to have with them Mrs. Swartz, superintendent of Federated clubs for the southern district. Mrs. Swartz was an instructive and pleasing speaker and made many suggestions for the community life perfect for which the women's clubs are laboring. Two choruses were given by the club members.

A dainty refreshment course in colors appropriate to St. Patrick's day was served. The president, Mrs. Carl Ritz, suggested that Mrs. May be tendered a vote of appreciation for her gracious hospitality and this was most heartily acted upon. Mrs. May was assisted by her charming young daughters, Kathryn and Bettie May, and Mrs. Teegardin, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Foresman, Mrs. Leist and other associate members of the club.

Two-piece frocks make their bow on the Rue de la Paix for evening wear, thus proving that the sports design will not down.

AMUSEMENTS

There is no lack of thrills and entertainment in Tod Browning's crook drama, "The Unholy Three," a Metro Goldwyn-Mayer production, now showing at the Met theater.

Indeed, it may be said that Browning has made more than a good underworld picture. He has made a melodrama that will go over anywhere with a bang because it contains real heart interest, plenty of comedy and a lot of drama.

The story is a most unusual one and deals with a trio of freaks—a giant, a midget and a ventriloquist—who forsake their life in a dime museum to pursue a career of robbery and murder.

The trio cover up their misdeeds by running a bird and animal store, and succeed in escaping detection after each crime until two of them murder a wealthy club man while looting his home.

After shifting the blame on another they flee to the mountains. Fearful of the strength and cunning of his confederates, the ventriloquist brings a powerful gorilla with him for protection. How the gorilla fulfills his mission, how the innocent culprit is defended by the agency of an unknown voice at the trial, how the mystery is cleared up brings the picture to a thrilling, satisfying end.

Miss Busch and Lon Chaney have the outstanding roles but the others take every advantage to give a very fine performance in what may be rightly called the best crook film of the year.

FOR RAINBOW VETERANS

Ohio is proud of the war record of its One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry of the Rainbow Division. Brigadier General Frank D. Henderson, Adjutant General of Ohio, is anxious that the history of the organization reaches every ex-service man of the organization.

Saturday he made this announcement: "The Ohio Legislature in 1923 authorized an appropriation of funds for the compilation, publication and distribution of a history of the One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry, namely, 'Ohio in the Rainbow,' free of cost to all officers and enlisted men who served honorably in the One hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry during the World War. The history is ready for issue to those, by making application to this office, furnishing such identification as is necessary to establish the fact that they are entitled to the book. Address applications to the Adjutant General's Department, Columbus, Ohio."

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID OHIO FOOD CANNERS

Eager Demand Throughout the Country For Canned Foods With Ohio Imprint.

Columbus, March 15.—Urging that grades be established in order that sub-standard goods may not be offered as standard or fancy, thereby prejudicing the high commercial standing obtained by years of patient effort on the part of the better class of canners in Ohio, Arthur McWilliams, chief of the state dairy and food commission, today declared that the corn produced by the Ohio canners enjoys an enviable reputation from a qualitative standpoint.

"Superiority in this respect," Mr. McWilliams said, "has been the result of a moral responsibility assumed by the better class of canners operating within the state. They have set a high standard that has developed an eager demand throughout the country for the canned goods bearing the Ohio imprint. A flattering distribution has been created that will require activity and greater markets and result in more profits to the corn growers of Ohio. This industry having been placed on a high plane should make a commanding appeal to consumers. Every effort should be made on the part of the people of Ohio to maintain this status."

"One pound of corn," Mr. McWilliams said, "equals in caloric value 1 1/4 pounds of white potatoes; 4 pounds of turnips or 6 pounds of lettuce."

TWO YEARS IN PEN FOR KATHE

PANTS FOUND, MONEY GONE

Things look pretty black when a man wakes in the morning and discovers that the trousers which he had so carefully folded over the foot of the bed the night before have disappeared.

That's what happened to Valentine Wagner, of Kingston, last Thursday night Mr. Wagner folded his trousers over the bedstead, Friday morning he awoke and there were no trousers.

A systematic search of the house revealed the missing clothing in one of the rooms in the lower floor of the house. The trousers were there but a bill fold that contained $20 when Mr. Wagner had seen it last was gone.

The matter was reported and Marshal J. T. Evans is working on the case.

Entrance to the house was gained by prying open a window on the ground floor. Nothing else in the house was disturbed. Mr. or Mrs. Wagner heard the night-workers enter the room and depart with the trousers.

It is believed that the robbery was committed by a Kingston person or one familiar with the surroundings.

A DOLLAR DOWN

A friend of mine bought a gramophone,

For a dollar down and a dollar a week.

This is the easiest graft I've known—

This dollar down and a dollar a week.

So he bought a chair and a fountain pen,

A runabout car and a stove and then

A set of the "Lives of Our Famous Men,"

For a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then he bought two brand new radio sets,

For a dollar down and a dollar a week.

And a dozen cartons of cigarettes,

For a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then he bought a ring that was fair to see

For the lily-white hand of his bride to be;

And after the wedding the minister's fee

Was a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then he bought a house for his family

At a dollar down and a dollar a week,

And when they got sick the doctor's fee,

Was a dollar down and a dollar a week.

Then said his wife, "I must be free;

These weekly payments are ruining me!"

So she got a divorce and the alimonce

Was a dollar down and a dollar a week!

Twins Not Duplicates
Always, Prof. Holds
Seattle.—Working on the hypothesis that twins may be divided into two classifications—dissimilar twins and duplicate twins—Stevenson Smith, professor of psychology of the University of Washington, is examining 100 pair this year. He is undertaking to determine in what degree they are dissimilar both mentally and physically.

The process of dressing twins alike, Professor Smith explained, tends almost irresistibly to the belief that the children are alike. Parents find, however, if they clothe their paired offspring differently, individualism of personality is cultivated.

This is said to be one of the latest ideas in sports regalia. The skirt is of gold lama cloth, and the coat of black velvet, trimmed with gold. The accompanying hat is of black satin, trimmed with ribbon. A purple of gold brocade gives the desired finish to the outfit.

Paris Favors Elack; Vivid Colors on Wane

Paris has gone back to her allegiance to black. Not that she ever really frowned upon the code of black, but for a short time its supremacy was a bit threatened by the more vivid colors. Recently, however, the costume of black or black touched with white or a bit of contrasting color has been seen in sufficient numbers to make it worthy of much consideration.

American women, generally speaking, have not taken to high collars with quite the same enthusiasm as the smart Parisienne but there is no doubt of their chic and no doubt that the woman who is alert to all the finer discriminations of the mode will include at least one, if not more, high-collared gown in her wardrobe.

In one frock there is a novel sash to add to the interest of the high collar and wide sleeves with their colorful appliques. The sash, very wide and placed at the normal waistline, extends all the way down the right side of the skirt.

Fashioned of black repeloth, the model boasts a novel collar and neckline and achieves a charmingly youthful aspect by motifs of brilliant colors which form a decoration on the sleeves.

The ingenuity displayed in the creation of two-piece models is truly amazing. Seemingly new ideas should have been exhausted, but each week witnesses the launching of a new version of the jumper.

Frocks of this type are ideal for sports and resort wear. Recognizing that they may serve so many purposes, designers have shown much versatility in the type of materials used and in details of trimming. Rajah and shantung silks are among the materials which apparently are destined to be rivals of Chinese damask. Then there are several new wools, as well as a number of interesting cotton fabrics which in weave and texture suggest wool.

Developed in one of the new materials is a frock which is a smart interpretation of the latest mode in frocks of the two-piece type. For the original costume, a rather brilliant shade of blue was chosen, and crepe de chine in the same shade forms an effective trimming on both jumper and wrap-around skirt. An interesting detail is the long tie run through slashes.

Quilted Silks, Satins, Make Handsome Coats

Fine quilted silks and satins make very handsome coats for evening, afternoon and "occasional" wear. The practical model for this type of coat has straight lines, and it is invariably trimmed with fur. Many of the quilted coats for spring are made of taffeta in black, with ermine or white fox, and in beige, king's blue, or gray. Peach squirrel, summer ermine and others of the short furs are used for trimming. Materials never treated so before are now quilted. A quilted coat just brought out is made of peacock glazed chintz—the kind we are accustomed to see in hangings and upholstery. It is lined with light tan kasha cloth and has a collar and narrow cuff bands of summer squirrel matching the lining in color. Another coat of this imported glazed cotton is in a lovely shade of blue with collar and cuffs of white rabbit. It is a charming jeune fille wrap.

MORE MARRIED WOMEN

Pessimists have pointed to the great increase of married women working outside the home but have ignored altogether the figures that show the great increase in the number of married women, writes John Beach in an article in this week's Liberty. He points out that there was a greater proportion of married women in 1920 than in 1910 for women of every age between fourteen and forty-five, and the increase was the most marked for the women of younger years.

"The increase of married women at work outside the home," he writes, "has been at a far faster rate than the increase of all women engaged in similar occupations. Working women are marrying at a greater rate than women in general are going to work."

From 1910-20 there was an actual drop in the percentage of all women who were engaged in such occupations—from 25.4 per cent in 1910 to 23.7 per cent in 1920.

"The census and the researches of the Department of Labor disclose that the movement of women for years past has been into office work, professional pursuits, and sales activities, rather than into the factory or shop."

"There were only thirty thousand and more married women workers listed in 1920 than in 1910 in all occupations, but in that same period married women in office and clerical work increased 290 per cent and saleswomen increased by 133 per cent. The increase of married women in mechanical and manufacturing occupations was only 41 per cent."

"It is quite evident that for the great majority of working wives the period of a married business career is transitory. Later on they become housewives—and the arrival of the first baby is usually the occasion of the wife's retirement from business."

"But, on the other hand, an increasing number of married business women manage to combine motherhood and business, just as the women of European aristocracies have always managed to combine motherhood with a multitude of outside activities. There are corporations which provide for their women workers' vacations for childbearing."

"Woman was formerly taken from the parental roof-tree by the lover into a new home," writes Mr. Beach. "Now she is taken from business, even if the wedding bells precede the carrying off by months or many years."

Christ Was Small Man, Says Bible Authority

London.—Christ was a comparatively small man and not of the size and figure in which he is generally represented, according to Dr. Rendel Harris, one of the greatest living authorities on Old Testament history and a former professor in Johns Hopkins university.

Doctor Harris quoted as an authority the Apostle John who says, according to the Acts:

"Oftimes He would appear to me as a small man and uncomely, and then as one reaching unto heaven. His head touched heaven so that I was afraid and cried out and He, turning about, appeared as a man of small stature."

The doctor arrives at a height of five feet two inches from the writings of St. Ephrem, the Syrian, which contains the following:

"God took human form and appeared with a stature of three human cubits while at the same time assuming all things. He rose upon us little of stature."

Three human cubits are estimated to be five feet two inches.

Lost His Hotel

New Orleans.—George Carr of Burlington, Iowa, registered in a "small hotel on a narrow street" and went to give Mardl Gras the "once over." He could not find the hotel after an all-day search and had to insert an ad in a local paper appealing to the manager of the hostelry to send him his baggage.

Going Too Deep

A wealthy amateur collector who recently returned to this country from a tour of Europe brought back with him from Italy a very precious and rare picture that he regarded as the work of an old master. In order to evade the Italian ban upon the export of such works he had a seascape painted over the original and when he arrived in New York he instructed a famous firm of art dealers to remove this latter. A few days later he received the following wire from this firm: "Have removed seascape and old master. What do you wish us to do with 'Coronation of Victor Emmanuel'?"

Little Cochineal Used

Cochineal as a coloring is still used to some extent. Formerly it was much employed for coloring wool or silk a scarlet or crimson; but owing to the cost of its production and to the fact that the colors, although brilliant, are not very enduring, this dye has been greatly replaced by cheaper coal-tar products, and for this reason the cochineal industry has been rapidly declining.

"Red Grange" Without the Publicity Could Not Make Money Credited to Him.

"That newspapers are the most effective advertising mediums and that newspapers advertising is the cheapest and most productive form of publicity because of its news value was the gist of an address before the Columbus Advertising club at its luncheon meeting at the Fort Hayes hotel, Columbus, Monday, by Andrew L. Carmichel, director of advertising promotion for the Chicago Evening American.

In his address, he declared that "Red Grange," without the advertising publicity given him, would not have been able to make the money credited to him, and cited this as an example of the efficacy of the newspapers' work.

"Only a newspaper could have done this thing," he asserted. "because the newspapers, by their nature, create an instantaneous desire for anything that appeals.

"The fact that a newspaper is born and dies on the same day, and tomorrow an entirely new one comes into existence, creates the thought of action in the reader's mind.

Mr. Carmichel, in commenting on the value of newspaper advertising, declared that its work could be very quickly seen in a newspaper, in the loss of circulation caused when advertising was removed. He added that he had no time or desire to argue with any individual who has no use for newspaper advertising.

"A certain man has stated that there is no such thing as cumulative results from newspaper advertising," he said. "If the statement is true, then advertising is a fraud. If the statement is true, there is not a merchant in Columbus who can afford to buy advertising space.

"If you want to test that statement to get the facts, let a non-advertiser run a page ad and then let a regular advertiser run the same ad. You will find that the regular advertiser will outpull by a margin so far that there will be no comparison.

"Why? Because the regular advertiser has established his identity and his service. He had good will, and good will is worth more than money and merchandise. It is the very lifeblood of any business. Cumulative results from former advertisements assert themselves in each and every advertisement."

IRISH PARTY.

The Ladies' Bible class of the First Methodist church will hold their monthly social session in the ladies' parlors Tuesday evening, March 16, at 7 o'clock. It will be in the nature of an Irish party. All invited.
